Mead Aircraft Announces a NEW Resource: Training Videos

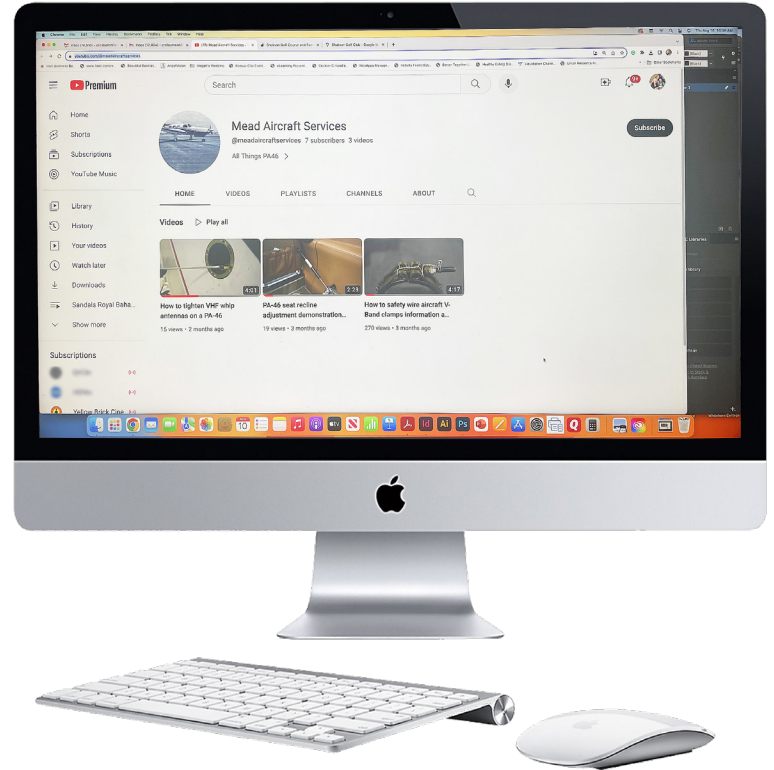

We are producing a series of videos that will help our clients solve common maintenance problems and installations.

Our goal is to build a library of useful videos that are not available anywhere currently. We hope they will fill a gap in need for owners and mechanics, and to help educate all those who are interested in the workings of M-Class Aircraft.

We were excited to have discovered a hidden talent in one of our own technicians. Working with Kevin to develop the content and narrate these videos, Brayden Dineen, has really stepped up to bring this effort into reality!

Currently we have posted the first 3 of what will become dozens of videos planned so far, eventually evolving into our Mead Aircraft Services Video Library. You can access these links now through our website on the MAS Video Library Page.

Mead Aircraft Services KC is EXPANDING to meet your needs!

We are excited to announce that we have purchased 2 hangars at the Johnson County Executive Airport (KOJC). This will increase our work and storage floor space by 3 times. The added floor space will allow us to hire more staff and increase the shop volume to better meet client's needs.

These hangars are currently a work in progress, as we are upgrading and updating their look and function to meet our standards. We are working as swiftly as possible to make them ready for use.

We are also looking forward to increasing the area for offices (for services and sales), and enlarging the parts department as well.

New services we announcing soon are flight training/ facilities and aircraft management services. Read further in this news letter for more information!
